Oving and Pitchcott Community Led Plan aims to help us determine the future of this community, and how it can change for the better. It provides a collective view of what is important to the villagers of Oving and Pitchcott and identifies our priorities. It then sets out the action plans to enable us to achieve them.

This Plan provides:

- The information needed when putting forward our community’s views to relevant parties on key issues, such as village services and facilities, transport, safety and our local environment.

- Evidence of village support needed by grant-making bodies when we seek investment for a priority identified in our Plan.

- Information to the Parish Council about where to focus their energy, influence and potential investments.

While it is true that a Community Led Plan will not in itself stop development or create a change of local authority policies, it does enable our community to influence some of the organisations involved in the planning and development of Oving and Pitchcott and our environs, and will help the Parish Council when making decisions.

The Oving and Pitchcott Community Led Plan will be revised after three years through another process of consultation with villagers.
HISTORY OF OVING AND PITCHCOTT

Oving has a fascinating history, which was documented in 2003 by David Proctor.

Oving is built on a hill that dominates the surrounding countryside. It has been occupied by the Romans, Saxons and Normans and throughout modern times and may also have been settled by pre-Roman Celtic Britons, demonstrating at least 1,800 years of history – and probably more.

Springs and wells provided the village with drinking water until quite recently. The water permeates through the Portland and Purbeck limestone and gathers in the impermeable rocks below. The hill's springs provide the source for streams which run south to the river Thame and north to the holy well in North Marston, famed in mediaeval times for its curative properties. The springs rarely freeze or fail and are noted for their purity and clarity. Old water pumps can still seen on Church Lane and the grounds of Oving House.

The local Kimmeridge clay topsoil gives the area a reputation for excellent fertility. The clay and limestone have been used for bricks and building stone for many centuries and the remains of clay quarries, dating back to the 15th century, can be seen to the west of Pitchcott.

There is a Roman camp at the top of Oving's hill, dating from about 200 AD, and a minor Roman road runs one mile west of Pitchcott towards Granborough. Roman Akeman Street is three miles to the west of Oving and there is a Roman burial site near North Marston.
HOW WE CREATED THE PLAN

All parishes have been encouraged to produce Community Led Plans. These plans enable parishes to make decisions on issues affecting their communities, representing the interests of their residents and with their support.

In March 2015 we delivered a detailed questionnaire to all 193 houses in Oving and Pitchcott parishes. Forms were completed by a significant 44% of households, representing all age groups, and the results communicated to residents in June 2015 at the Annual Parish Meeting in the Village Hall.

A short face-to-face questionnaire was then conducted with 163 households during the final quarter of 2015. This was to obtain the views on a range of key issues of as close to 100% of residents as possible, and to identify priorities.

With the data from these two questionnaires, the Community Led Plan Committee drafted this Plan at the end of 2015.

Residents throughout our parish have contributed to this Plan, through the written questionnaire, the face-to-face survey, and via individual comments and advice. We would like to thank all for their interest and contributions. The Plan is, however, simply the start in this process.

NEXT STEPS

This Community Led Plan represents the views and priorities of the majority of people in our community, and it sets out how we might achieve them.

Its success will be measured by how effective we, as a community, are in implementing our ideas and plans.

These improvements will only be achieved through the involvement and efforts of local people, aided and supported by the Parish Council and local organisations.
DEVELOPMENT & PLANNING

Parishioners considered this topic to be of critical importance and ranked it the top priority in the short questionnaire. A new draft Vale of Aylesbury Plan has been produced, detailing various development options for 2013 to 2033 in the Vale. In the least intrusive option, Oving is classed as a small village and, as such, would be less at risk from extensive development than, say, Quainton or North Marston. However, the government’s intention to increase the supply of housing may yet put further pressure on Buckinghamshire for new housing developments.

The overwhelming majority (92%) of respondents feel that any new building should complement or enhance the overall look and feel of the village. More than three-quarters of residents (78%) believe that specific sites or categories of land should be protected from future development, and a small majority of (58%) think that the current Conservation Area is not sufficient to protect the character of the village.

When land becomes available, 61% believe it should not automatically be built upon. Where new development does occur, 76% think it should be small-scale and restricted to a maximum of five properties, and 68% say that projects should include a proportion of affordable housing.

A key characteristic of the village is felt by 83% of respondents to be the views in all directions and that this aspect should be protected from encroaching development. Larger-scale developments, even beyond the village, are objected to by 60% of respondents. Being kept abreast of, and responding to, potential developments and schemes in the wider environment which would negatively impact on the village – such as infrastructure schemes like wind turbines or new roads – is important to 85% of respondents.

Villagers and the Parish Council should continue to proactively monitor applications which will impact upon us, both within our community and beyond, and provide comments to relevant planning authorities.

In addition, the Parish Council will use the findings of the survey to assist when making decisions about planning matters within and beyond the village.
VILLAGE HALL

Oving Village Hall was opened in July 2014 following a huge fundraising effort by villagers and is a popular venue for a wide variety of events. It was designed to produce the minimum effect on the environment, with low running costs, and is fully accessible for elderly or disabled users. Its position, between the children’s playground and the tennis courts and overlooking the Recreation Ground, means that it can be used by families with children and to support tennis club and other sports and village festivities.

The Hall is widely used for regular groups and classes, such as yoga, pilates and arts and crafts, as well as for village events, and is popular for wedding receptions and private parties. It is leased to the Oving Village Hall Trust and managed by Oving Village Hall Trust Management Committee. Ongoing improvements to the Hall are implemented as they are identified and agreed.

In October 2015 the building was recognised in the Highly Commended category of the prestigious Aylesbury Vale District Council Design Award scheme for its design and its contribution to the local environment.

A large majority of respondents (86%) say the Hall is an asset to the village and 64% that it is useful for family events. In the short questionnaire, it was identified as the second priority for the village.

The Hall should be self-funding according to 69% of respondents, and early signs are that income from hiring and fundraising is keeping well ahead of expenditure. Preferential rates for villagers are wanted by 72%, with a similar number asking to be kept informed about future events at the Hall.

Car parking is adequate on most occasions but is stretched when use of the Hall coincides with football matches on the Recreation Ground. The car park’s surface is in need of improvement and the lighting is not adequate to fully illuminate the area. It’s also been suggested that the wooden gates should be re-opened to provide a dedicated pedestrian access. This and the improvements to the car park should be costed and included in the Parish Council’s spending programme.
The Village Hall management group will continue with the present level of activities but does not have the capacity to greatly expand into new events, although many excellent ideas were suggested in the questionnaire.

These included a Culture Group (talks by experts, and discussions on various topics), more evening exercise classes, table-top sales, music nights, games nights, dancing classes, language classes, wine tasting and a wine and cheese party.

Villagers are invited to help set up, organise and run new events. Anyone who can help is encouraged to make contact with the Hall’s events co-ordinator or a management group member to discuss the details.

Village Hall events co-ordinator, Mary Peeters: 01296 641738.

The Management Committee members can be contacted via email at ovinghall@clerk.com or 01296 336575.

Management Committee members include:
Andy Boulton, Mark Cheetham, Kit Couper (Trustee), Richard Devas, Diana Hilton-Jones, Barrie Mellars, Ambrose McGinn (Trustee), Jack Peeters (Trustee), Mary Peeters, Vanessa Wiggins, Linda Nicholls (Bookings Secretary).
RECREATION GROUND

The Recreation Ground in Bowling Alley is a key feature of Oving, widely used and enjoyed by both residents and visitors to the village for recreation and sports.

The three-hectare site was originally glebe land (cultivated land that was used to provide income for the parish priest) and was bought by the owner of Oving House, Henry Yates Thompson, and donated in 1927 to the Parish Council and its successors ‘to be used exclusively and in perpetuity for the benefit and enjoyment of the people of Oving and Pitchcott’.

An attractive tree-lined area, the Recreation Ground has many informal and formal uses. It’s the home of Oving Football Club (founded 1887), which plays there regularly throughout the season, and is also the venue for the historic Oving Villages Cup Final, held each Easter Monday in a competition that was first played in 1890 and one of the oldest in the country.

Oving Tennis Club was formed before WWII and re-launched in 1993. Members play on the courts throughout the year and there are Saturday morning training sessions for youngsters. Plans are underway to re-establish a cricket club for all ages and there is a regular fitness and running group and a basketball hoop. Recently, villagers have participated in special football and rounders matches which have proved to be enjoyable social occasions.

The Church Fête and other events and festivals, such as those held to celebrate the Jubilee and Millennium, are also held on the Recreation Ground, bringing together people from the village. A small community orchard has also been established by two villagers.

The original wooden sports pavilion is now used for storage. A new pavilion was erected in 1975 and has recently been extended and upgraded. It provides changing rooms, showers and a small meeting room with tea-making facilities. However, the main building on the Recreation Ground is the new Village Hall.

Children’s play has always been an important feature of the Rec and the present high-quality and very popular play equipment, including climbing nets and a zip-wire, was provided as a result of village fund-raising plus a generous grant from Waste Recycling Environmental (WREN).

The Parish Council runs the Recreation Ground on behalf of the village, assisted by the Recreation Ground sub-committee which meets twice a year.

The great popularity of the Recreation Ground is evidenced by the fact that 95% of villagers say they use or visit it at least once a month, and a quarter of these at least once a week.
New activities and sports, as well as more activities for children and young people, would be welcomed by 90% of people.

Some three-quarters of respondents (78%) say that dogs should only be exercised on the Recreation Ground if they are on the lead. There are prominent notices in place asking owners to keep their dogs on leads and owners are politely requested to cooperate.

Many ideas have been put forward for the Rec, most popular amongst them being:

- summer late afternoon activities for juniors, followed by a BBQ,
- junior football and coaching,
- junior cricket and coaching,
- more villagers’ football, rounders and cricket matches,
- new sports opportunities (eg hockey, netball, basketball, rugby etc),
- circular fitness trail,
- more social events (eg music, horticultural show, community events).

New activities can only be achieved through dedicated work by parishioners. However, almost two thirds of villagers surveyed were prepared to provide voluntary help for the recreation ground, on either an occasional or a regular basis.

Issues raised include the surface of the gravel car park and the availability of adequate parking during events.

- the Recreation Ground sub-committee will consider new ideas and opportunities, and develop an implementation plan;
- volunteers are needed to develop the new ideas suggested;
- plans are already underway to improve facilities for cricket and to establish cricket coaching for young people;
- the Recreation Ground and Village Hall committees will continue to seek opportunities for new events;
- the Parish Council will improve and continue to maintain the car park, as well as managing overspill parking on the grassed areas, within the limits of budgets.

Reading Room

The Reading Room is an old building, now in need of refurbishment. In particular it needs to be used and ideas are invited for its future use.

The building is of an ideal size to accommodate small meetings and it’s also been suggested that it could be used by local students for quiet study.

The Reading Room should be surveyed and suggestions are invited to bring it back into use for the community. Plans can then be made and costed to bring it up to scratch.
VILLAGE PUB

Oving has a historic and attractive pub with wonderful views of the surrounding countryside. Dating from around 1600, the Black Boy is considered by parishioners to be a very important part of the village community. It was ranked third in the short survey and received more comments in the long questionnaire than any other topic.

Suggestions, priorities and comments can be summarised as:

- good quality food at reasonable prices;
- revamp of the dining room décor, ambience and furniture;
- catering more for families in terms of both menu and serving hours;
- more events, such as themed nights, special food nights, music, quizzes/games, community lunches and summer BBQs so that it becomes a centre of the community.

The recent turnover of landlords, along with periods of closure, has meant that the Black Boy has not been able to fulfil its considerable potential as a village and destination pub. This has proved a frustration and disappointment to villagers who want to see landlords who can deliver a winning formula. Villagers have welcomed the pub’s reopening under new landlords and look forward to future developments and improvements.

ALL SAINTS CHURCH

All Saints Church is the oldest building in Oving. Constructed of local limestone, it dates from the 13th century, with additions from the 14th, 15th, 16th and 17th centuries, and has been described as a small and simple village church with ‘no pretensions to grandeur’.

The church is part of the Schorne Team which covers six local villages. Depending heavily on the support of local parishioners, All Saints Church is available to everyone and has an important role to play in village life.

Saint Giles Church at Pitchcott (now a private residence) has a churchyard which is still in use and can be accessed by parishioners and members of the public.
The Oving with Pitchcott Newsletter is published by All Saints Church (with assistance from Oving Parish Council) and delivered to every house in the village. It is the main avenue of news and information about forthcoming events in the parish.

The questionnaire shows that 60% of respondents strongly agree that the church buildings and community are important to the village, while 46% indicate that maintaining the fabric of our historic church is a priority. Without continued support to maintain both the church and the churchyard, further costly repairs will be needed. Currently, 31% of respondents contribute to the upkeep while 66% say that they are, or might be, prepared to be involved.

Fundraising activities are supported by many villagers, for example the Harvest Supper and Summer Fête, while Will or annual gifting, along with membership of the Friends of Oving Church, provide additional financial support. Further financial help could be achieved by contacting new residents to the village.

To help bring about a renewed interest in and appreciation of our church and its heritage, the Village Hall could be used to hold events for the church.

An exchange of ideas with Oving Parish Council could further help generate interest and fundraising opportunities.

A presentation is planned for Spring 2016 to highlight the need for action, and to generate support and help from residents.
NATURE CONSERVATION

With their mix of farmland, gardens of varying sizes, allotments, large numbers of trees, attractive hedgerows and a significant number of ponds, the parishes of Oving and Pitchcott have a wide variety of wildlife habitats. In turn these areas support good populations of birds, insects and animals, ranging from voles to badgers and deer.

In the questionnaire there were mixed views about whether or not there is adequate protection for our built heritage and natural environment. On the other hand, there was overwhelming support (89%) for areas of the village to be managed specifically to enhance their value for wildlife. In particular: the hedgerows, ponds, wildflower meadows, churchyard, Bunshill (off Pitchcott Road, opposite New Road) and the grass verges.

Local farmers and landowners are generally sensitive to wildlife in their management regimes and no significant threats are perceived from these actions. Similarly a growing trend to manage gardens using fewer chemicals and to feed garden birds is seen as positive.

There are no formal nature reserves in the parishes but an area of private land of about one acre north of the Black Boy pub garden has been managed specifically for wild flowers and butterflies for 20 years, and more than 25 varieties of butterflies have been recorded there in that period. Spin-off benefits have included large numbers of bees, grasshoppers, hoverflies, birds and bats.

The current level of building development is not thought to be affecting wildlife dramatically, although villagers believe that large-scale developments should be opposed.

The Parish Council is urged to ensure that the management of its land, particularly the Recreation Ground, continues to set a good example for wildlife conservation. Hossil pond (located behind the Old School, near the Black Boy), is also in the Parish Council’s ownership and requires better management to maintain its wildlife value. The Council is recommended to obtain expert advice to achieve this aim.

Knowledge about our local wildlife is important to aid its protection. This has been helped by articles in the parish newsletter but more could be done. Villagers are specifically invited to add to this knowledge by their own contributions. Such articles could easily be uploaded to the village website and this will be considered. Talks and demonstrations can also be arranged at the Village Hall if demand exists.
(See also the section on Allotments as this subject overlaps with conservation and wildlife.)
COMMUNICATIONS

Technology in the village

The survey indicates that 69% of villagers have use of email and that 53% want faster broadband connection. At present, broadband speed varies in the village but is generally very poor.

There is a much-publicised ‘Connected Counties’ programme which aims to have 90% of households connected to fibre broadband by April 2016 and BT has been awarded the contracts. Under the scheme, Buckinghamshire has been promised Superfast Broadband, which is defined as 24Mbs.

One cabinet has been upgraded to fibre in the Whitchurch exchange but not the one that serves Oving and Pitchcott. The cabling from the exchange will need to be upgraded. By the end of 2015 it hadn’t been possible to determine when, or if ever, this would happen. Alternatives, such as satellite delivery of Superfast Broadband, have been indicated by Connected Counties, but as yet no details are available.

Given the lack of any tangible commitment from BT, alternative options for high-speed broadband should be considered. For example, Aylesbury Vale Broadband (95% owned by Aylesbury Vale District Council) is running a pilot scheme in North Marston. This involves installing ducting across farmland. If the pilot is successful, and so far it appears to be, then they will be looking to roll it out to other villages in the Vale.

We need to get to the top of priority lists for fibre broadband and in order to do so the Parish Council and the residents need to lobby, complaining that we are suffering from a lack of adequate and reliable broadband.

In the meantime, the Parish Council will continue to try and get some commitment from BT.
Village website

The Oving village website has been running for a number of years and has been improved and redesigned. The new site is at: www.ovingpc.com

In the questionnaire, villagers commented on a number of improvements that could be made:

- updates to be implemented more often;
- include fixtures and results of Oving Football team (with links to their website if they have one);
- include historic photographs and maps, like the ones displayed recently at the Village Hall event;
- the Parish Council to explain its decisions on planning applications;
- the village website to be advertised in the Parish Newsletter.

Parish Newsletter

The Oving with Pitchcott Parish Newsletter is delivered to every household in the village and the questionnaire shows that 99% of people read it. It features a mix of Church news, articles, features, events listings and local advertisements.

In the survey 90% of respondents say that the newsletter includes sufficient news about the Church and its activities. Regarding other content, 60% indicate they would like to see a greater number of news and general interest articles, while 64% think the newsletter should also include relevant news and articles about the surrounding area and villages.

Other suggestions for the Parish Newsletter include:

- features on wildlife,
- details of local support groups, carers etc,
- villagers’ achievements (eg degrees obtained),
- announcements of landmark birthdays, births, marriages and deaths,
- Village Hall events,
- address of the Village website.
GETTING AROUND IN OVING AND PITCHCOTT

Footpaths

Oving and Pitchcott are well-served by footpaths and bridleways, having some nine miles in total. With links to public footpaths and other routes in neighbouring parishes, together they provide a broad range of routes through varied countryside.

The footpaths that are on private land (about 80% of the nine miles) are the responsibility of the landowner to maintain, although the Parish Council has a responsibility to ensure that this is done. Under services devolved from Buckinghamshire County Council, our public footpaths and bridleways (as opposed to those on private land) are maintained by the Parish Council. The Highways Department of Buckinghamshire County Council is responsible for maintaining the village’s pavements and roadside grass verges.

Over 60% of parishioners use Oving and Pitchcott’s network of footpaths and a number of issues was raised – most notably those of difficulties of access and lack of maintenance. Of particular concern are:

- uneven and/or overgrown tarmac paths and pavements within the village, which present difficulties for anyone with limited mobility or vision, and those with pushchairs or wheelchairs;
- stiles which are not well-maintained. Additionally, stiles (as opposed to ‘kissing gates’) limit access for all but the most mobile;
- footpaths, especially those in the more remote parts of the parish, are not always well-maintained and can become overgrown and/or impassable.

Within the scope of increasingly restricted budgets, the Parish Council aims to:

- ensure that our footpaths are well-maintained and safe to use;
- seek ways to improve access, prioritising those footpaths that are suitable for pushchairs or wheelchairs;
- continue to provide signage, and litter and dog bins.

Recreation in our local countryside is clearly valued by the majority of villagers who believe that access for all in our community is important. A survey of all our footpaths and bridleways to ascertain problem areas would enable us to plan where action is needed, and by whom.

There is a need for a village action group to be formed to take this forward.

Bus Service

Although only 20% of residents say that they are reliant on local bus services, many are pensioners who have been badly affected by the timetable change which reduced services through Oving from hourly to every two hours, and strong opinions were expressed. North Marston and Granborough are similarly affected. The new route, which follows the A413 directly from Whitchurch to Winslow, is only 10 minutes quicker than the route via the villages. The new service now goes on to Milton Keynes, and not just to Buckingham, and would attract more customers from the three villages if residents had the opportunity to board the buses in Oving.

Representations will be made to our District Councillor to see whether we can obtain the necessary support from North Marston and Granborough to raise this issue with AVDC and Aviva.

If this approach fails, a scheme for volunteers to drive people to the doctor/hospital will be considered.

Traffic

Concerns were expressed by residents about speeding vehicles, particularly those on Pitchcott Road, Marston Hill and Bowling Alley. Additional anti-speeding measures were requested. There are a number of options but unfortunately they are typically very expensive.

A working group should be considered to look at the options. The MVAS (Motor vehicle Activated Sign) device needs to be moved fortnightly between its two positions on Marston Hill. A rota group of six volunteers is needed to achieve this (training provided).
The allotments occupy a plot of around one acre, central to the village and near the junction of Church Lane with Bowling Alley. Formerly glebe land, which once provided additional income for the local vicar, the site is now managed by Sidleys Chartered Surveyors on behalf of owners, the Diocese of Oxford. There are 16 plots, of varying sizes, for which an annual rental of around £20 is charged. The allotments are inspected twice a year to ensure they are sufficiently well-maintained.

A wide variety of crops and plants is cultivated on the different plots, including many vegetables, flowers, and soft and orchard fruits. Greenhouses and sheds have been erected by a number of plot-holders, along with compost bins and raised beds. A public footpath borders the allotments and each late summer local people enjoy the magnificent display of dahlias grown on one allotment.

There is invariably a waiting list for plots, which (at the end of 2015) stands at seven people. Waiting time for a vacancy can be very considerable – anything up to 12 years – although some allotments are under-utilised, a source of considerable frustration to those on the waiting list.

The questionnaire reveals that 15% of parishioners are interested in taking an allotment and 61% believe that rents should be increased to reduce neglect on plots and boost availability. Almost half of all respondents is interested in the formation of a Garden & Allotment Society.

There was agreement to Oving becoming more environmentally sustainable with 59% in support, while 6% were interested in helping to organise a sustainability group.
There are a number of measures which could be taken to improve the use of allotments:

- the results of the Plan to be made available to Sidleys, Chartered Surveyors;
- half-plots to be offered to existing and new plot holders;
- encourage Sidleys to adopt a ‘use it or lose it’ policy;
- allotment holders and interested villagers to create an Oving Garden & Allotment Society to share costs of materials, provide information and support, and form a seed & produce swap;
- hold an annual late summer community horticultural and craft show on the recreation ground;
- review whether additional land for allotments may be made available within the village;
- form a working group to drive improvements to environmental sustainability in Oving.

ACTIONS FOR RESIDENTS

Villagers have come up with many things that they would like to see happen. The Parish Council can do some of these, but has limited resources – both in terms of money and people. If this Plan is to be achieved, it can only be done with the assistance of residents.

1. Many good ideas were raised for new activities in the Village Hall and Recreation Ground. Volunteers are needed to help organise and run them.

2. Volunteers are also needed to serve on a footpaths group to survey the footpaths and identify what needs to be done.

3. Support the village pub by eating and drinking there.

4. Support All Saints Church events and fundraising initiatives.

5. Interested gardeners and allotment holders to form a garden & allotment society.

6. Villagers to lobby our District Councillor, Kevin Hewson, about the lack of adequate and reliable broadband: khewson@aylesburyvaledc.gov.uk.

ACTIONS FOR OVING PARISH COUNCIL

1. Invite our District Councillor Kevin Hewson to attend a Parish Council meeting to discuss Broadband options.

2. Request Kevin Hewson to co-ordinate a campaign with North Marston and Granborough to reinstate the original bus timetable. If unsuccessful, organise a Community Transport Scheme to provide transport to doctors etc.

3. Review anti-speeding options, particularly for Marston Hill and Bowling Alley.

4. Review managing the allotments, ie ‘use it or lose it’, and offering half-plots.

5. Review upgrading the Recreation Ground car park and refurbishing the wooden gates to provide a pedestrian entrance.

6. Provide facilities for cricket on the Recreation ground, including cricket coaching.

7. Work closely with the church and pub, and be aware of their plans and activities.

8. Survey the Reading Room and cost the necessary works.
